Final all school meeting as Nate announces upcoming move

FARE THEE WELL

Nathaniel Blackman Principal

Fare Thee Well, 223 N. Michigan Ave. Yes, that's right, we are leaving, but we have had to leave before and all it has done is made us stronger than we were before. So we are really just saying good-bye to a building which we have been staying at. Although to move a school is harder than moving a home physically, we have the advantage of taking everything with us, unlike when you leave a neighborhood and the friends you have accumulated over the years.

Recess is over

It's time for all of us to go back to class,

to get on the books.

Not ot sit on them but

but to learn from them.

Let's face it gang,

you have been out to recess

ever since school started.

That's the problem with young peoples minds,

they are always out to lunch

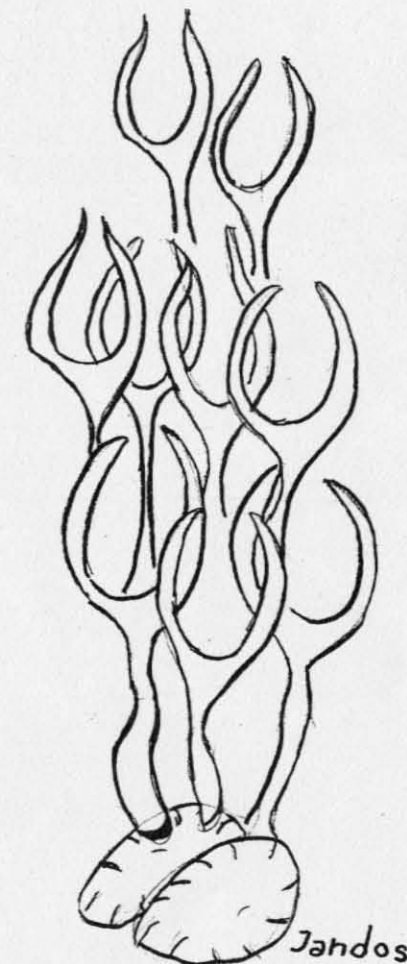

when it comes to education.

Education is supposed to be important in your life.

And yet everyone prefers

Hamburgers.

Many people live in a world of:
make believe.

A world which they think is a much better place for them.

A dream world

A fantasy world

A dream is a series of images or thoughts in the mind of a person sleeping.

A fantasy is something that exists only in the mind or imagination.

Will people ever awake from these two worlds and live out the real World?

Yes, Metro has a tennis team, and a very good team at that. Although they didn't qualify for the city champs (missing it by only one match), they haven't given up hope in qualifying next year. Metro's team this year did set a precedent by having a woman play on a men's team. Susan Grant is to be commended for her 500 win-loss record.

The rest of the members would like to say good-bye to Susan Grant, Eric Singleton, and Michael Solomon. We will be sorry to see our seniors leave but wish them the best of luck in the future.

MEET THE METRO MAVERICKS

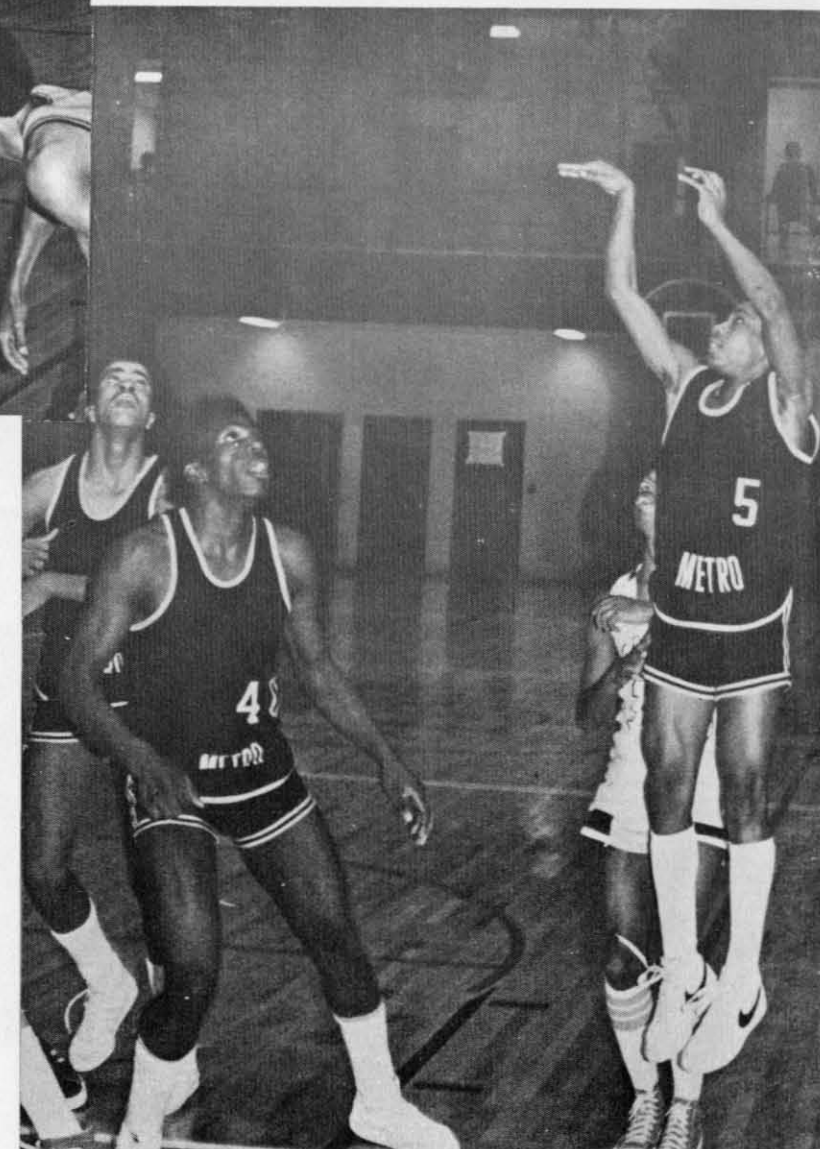

THE WINNING TEAM

It's been a long hard season for the Metro Mavericks. The bad weather and rough traveling to games seem to offset any effort the guys put in. We did take third in our division. All in all we survived.

To the Metro Mavericks we'd like to say Good luck.

GETTING STRONGER

Many of our players will be leaving us to pursue other roads to them we wish you the best of luck, come back and visit. Although we will be losing many players, the Mavericks have a distinct habit of getting stronger and we all look forward to next season.

Our CHEERLEADERS

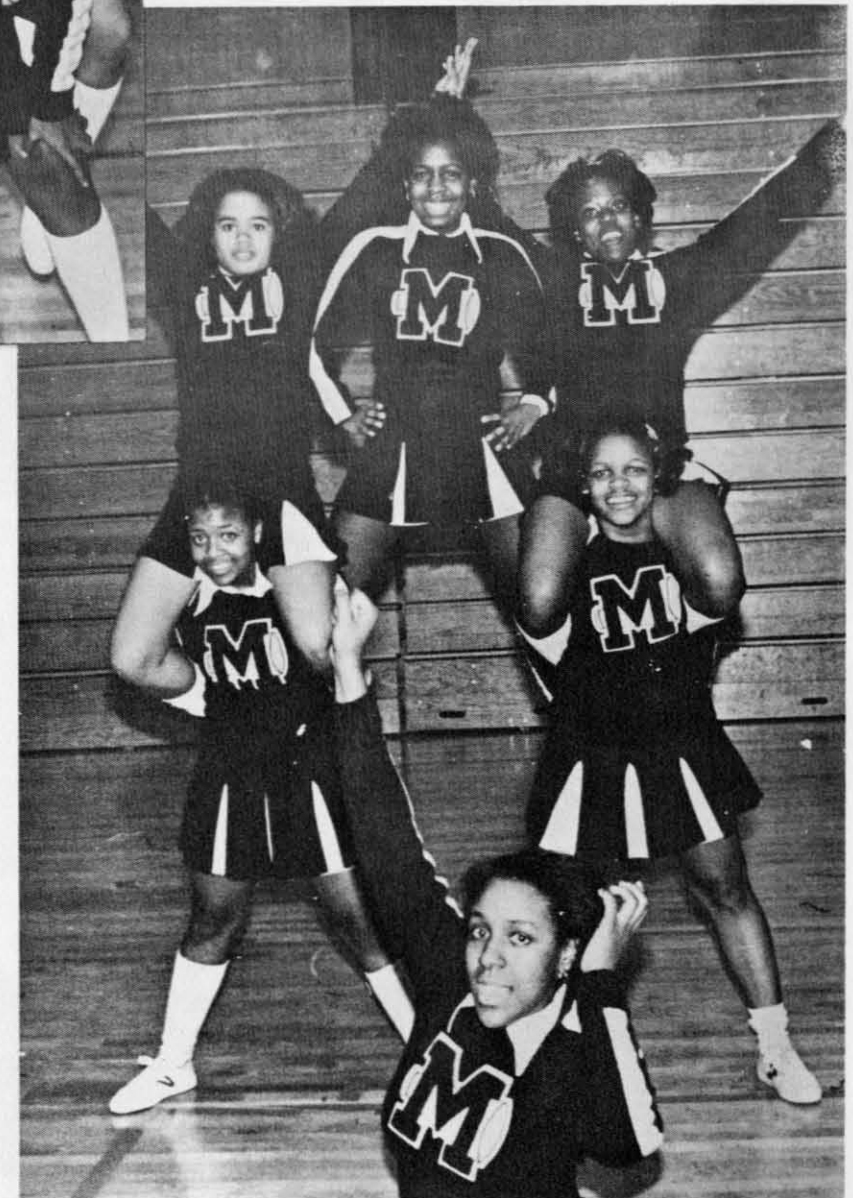

A word for our lovely ladies without them we couldn't have survived the season. They cheered the basketball team on no matter how far behind we were. Thanx to the Metro Cheerleaders.

The Spring Concert was one of the outstanding events that went on during this school year. This is when all of the school's talent emerges to form one of the unique events that Metro is famous for. The concert showed originality and style. Everyone who participated in the concert put in a lot of time and effort. The Blues Brothers (our very own Dunn Adams and Walter) were at the very least hilarious; they really got the show off on the right foot. All in all the spring concert was a success, we are looking forward to next years.

Metro is more than a school. It is a part of our lives. We like to call ourselves the school without walls, and we don't need walls to contain our feelings and emotions. Even though our seniors are leaving this year, we hope they take a part of Metro with them out into the world. We hope we prepared them for the world. Metro in itself is a small metropolis, and like Chicago, we change with the times, and the situation. We must realize this to survive, not only in Metro but anywhere. So, to the class of '79, we only hope you have grown and benefited from Metro and that you carry with you the ingenuity and creativity that shows you are a part of Metro.

THERE'S AN OPEN GATE

THROUGH WHICH EACH MUST GO ALONE, AND THERE,

BEYOND THE GATE

AND THERE IS COMFORT

The Metro-Dunes Class

The Metro-Dunes class is made up of a group of people who spend one day each week at the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore, learning about and experiencing the dunes environment.

The class was set up a few years after Metro was, largely by Steve Everett. Steve Everett, a past Social Studies teacher at Metro, and I were talking recently—I asked him why he had set up the Dunes class, and who he had gotten to help him.

"The first people I talked to about the class were students, they liked the idea and we started to work on it. I set up the class because I saw it as a way to bring the city and the country together, and as a way to diversify the curriculum: out there we could study insects, plants, bogs, streams, there were fantastic art possibilities, all kinds of things. I also saw it in a career development sense—a place for students to get interested in forestry or agriculture."

Some of the class' goals may have changed and others may have been added. But the Dunes class remains as a great experience, for those who have taken it, and for those who will take it in the future.

Dunes class sponsons are now Mike Liberles and Del Yarnell.
